

In 2004, our government actually passed a Medicare law forbidding itself from negotiating cheaper drug prices from pharmaceutical companies.

Can our quest for better health care get any goofier?

The Holland Lecture Series has asked Henry J. Aaron, PhD to help us sort it all out. Dr. Aaron is a Senior Fellow in Economic Studies at the Brookings Institution. He served as Assistant Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare and chaired the Advisory Council on Social Security. He is a member of the Institute of Medicine, chairman of the National Academy of Social Insurance and the author of Can We Say No? The Challenge of Rationing Health Care.

Join Dr. Aaron as he discusses “Universal Health Coverage: Not if, but when” – a free lecture by the First Unitarian Church of Omaha’s Holland Lecture Series.
